

The class visits the embassy or residence to present a program on what they have learned about their "adopted" country.

